Media: multiple
Description: "One Shot" by Sheila Scott. Sumi-artist creates beautifully simple compositions out of repurposed dried paint and board scraps from her sign painting days. Sheila Scott is a Seattle painter. After graduating in 1968 from the University of Washington's School of Art, she moved to San Diego and pursued a career as painter, illustrator, teacher, graphic artist, sign painter, showcard writer and calligrapher. She returned to Seattle 15 years ago and continues to paint in oil and sumi (ink) and teach. Shown in this month's Artwalk is a group of pieces reflecting on her sign painting days, using paint as art. She calls this her "One Shot Series" reflecting the name brand of her favorite oil based sign paint. Chris Griffin – Ink and watercolor pieces on paper for ads, concert posters and CD covers. Opening reception will be held in the gallery space on Friday February 18th from 6 to 7.30 p.m.

www.jackstraw.org
4261 Roosevelt Way NE
Presenting: Robert Millis
Medium: Installation
Description: Fragments of the Story explores how we "file away" memories and how those memories work together or become disassociated, jumbled, and confused; how their fragmentary nature influences what we think is truth, what we forget, and how we fill in the blanks. But more importantly, Fragments explores sound - quiet, murmuring sound. The installation employs filing cabinets, each with their own potential resonant qualities, inviting viewers to open and close drawers full of "auditory memories" to create their own narrative or soundscape..
